Heaviest Snow In Years Sweeping This Section

High Winds Accompany Blizzard—Traffic Hard Hit—Trains and Electric Car Schedules Abandoned

SNOWFALL AVERAGES 20 INCHES

Sweeping Winds Result in Drifts Several Feet High in Many Places—No Let Up In Snowfall Expected Till Late Tonight

The worst blizzard since 1917 hit Alexandria yesterday and has practically cut off the city from the outside world, although traffic between here and Washington is still open, but the trolley line is having a hard time keeping their tracks clear. In fact it is impossible as the snow continues to maintain a schedule.

According to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington, the snow is expected to continue falling this afternoon and tonight. The forecast for tomorrow being cloudy with little change in temperature. Twenty inches of snow had fallen up to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Milk wagons, bread wagons and practically all motor vehicles coming into the city this morning were tied up and many never reached the city, being caught in the snow jam. It is the worst storm encountered in years and more than eighteen inches had fallen by noon today. In some places drifting snow is many feet high.

The telephone and telegraph companies report that their wire service is working all right.

According to the weather bureau, the storm received its start off the Carolina Capes, and has practically covered the entire section north of that point. At times the high winds added to the fiercity of the blizzard and only helped to increase the damage, and added to the demoralization of traffic generally.

At the Union railway station this morning, trains from the South were running many hours behind time, and it was stated that there had been no trains for the South since 3 o'clock this morning.

The Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York morning papers did not arrive, and all mail from the north was delayed.

Hundreds of Alexandrians employed in Washington were unable to get to that city, owing to the snow, and during the early morning hours a number of trains were in operation, although a car jumped the track at Union station at the head of King street before 8 o'clock this morning which for a long time blocked both northbound and southbound traffic. Hundreds of government employees sought belated steam trains to reach Washington and many were compelled to return home, not being able to catch any train leaving at a reasonable hour.

Motor vehicles that endeavored to travel, soon were tied up. The busses of the Alexandria Motor Buss Line up to 10 o'clock were running at intervals, being unable to maintain any schedule.

The city market this morning was deserted as a result of the storm, there being no country people there, the only ones attending being those who have stands on the inside of the market.

A tractor was seen early this morning hauling in a snowbound wagon. Several large sleds were out this morning and the horse drawn vehicles were the only vehicles that stood up under the heavy snow, all motor vehicles soon being put out of commission.

As a result of the storm many poor families are suffering, being unable to obtain fuel to heat their homes Mayor Duncan today notified Chief of Police Goods to have the police notify him of any persons found in distress, and their wants will be looked after.

Early this morning an army of snow shovelers were busy cleaning off the snow from sidewalks, and judging from present appearances, it will be several days before the task is completed. The Washington-Virginia Railway Company kept its big snow plow running all night and also today but it did little good, so fast did the snow fall. Three hours was the time required for an electric train to make the trip from Washington shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. All traffic between Washington and this city was completely demoralized by noon and there was no certainty of passengers reaching their destination.

The electric train that endeavored to leave the city at 11:25 o'clock this morning was caught in the snow before it reached King and Royal streets and snow shovelers for half an hour were kept busy endeavoring to clear the tracks in order that it might proceed on its journey.

Throughout the remainder of the day this situation confronted the electric railway employees, it being the worst in many years. It looks as if night traffic will be abandoned.

Persons reaching Alexandria from the South report an unusually heavy storm all through the South and at some points the drifting snow was as high as eight feet, greatly impeding railroad travel.

FEW EXPECTED AT CONCLAVE

Only Fifty-Three Have Shown Willingness to Attend Papal Election

Rome, Jan. 27.—Cardinals are arriving daily to attend the conclave at the Vatican which will elect a successor to Pope Benedict XV, but the announcement that Cardinals Begin, of Quebeck; Albuqerque, of Brfazil; Von Skrbonsky, of Olmutz, and Mistrangelo, of Florence, are not coming reduces the attendance of fifty-three, four less than originally expected and seventeen less than the full college

Cardinals O'Connell and Dougherty, from America, are both expected, but it is feared that they cannot arrive before the opening of the session on February 2.

Newspapers generally look for a compromise candidate.

Cardinal LaFontaine, who is regarded as a likely candidate, being unopposed by either party, said: "He who enters the conclave a Pope leaves a cardinal." He pointed out the error of previous predictions and the failure of heretofore-boomed aspirants.

The newspapers still are concerning themselves with the question of a reapprochment between the church organs are explaining that no official relations have been established. The government denies that a prince visited the body of the Pope at St. Peter's, explaining that the ordering of the flags at half mast and closing of the theaters are in accordance with the laws and guarantees extended on the capture of Rome from Papacy. On the other side the church insists that an official notification of the Pope's death was sent to the government.

Critics point out what they call the inconsistency of the government's attitude since it neglected similar courtesies at the deaths of Pope Pius X and Leo XIII.

Father Ledochowski, general of the Society of Jesus, known as the Black Pope deplored rumors that his organization is using its influence in electing the Pope. He asserted he is refusing to see his friends to avoid charges of meddling in Vatican politics

LEAPS FROM HOSPITAL WINDOW

Aged Colored Man Found Hiding in Chicken House by the Police

Sam Bradley, an aged colored man, who for the past two weeks has been a patient at the Alexandria Hospital, suffering from frostbitten feet, jumped out of the first story window of the Alexandria Hospital at 2:30 o'clock this morning and ran away. Less than an hour afterward Bradley was found hiding in a small chicken house in the yard of the residence of Laurance Stabler, 209 South St. Asaph street. Bradley appeared almost frozen and was cuddled up beside a lone chicken. His only remark was that he was a "hot member," when the police dragged him out of the chicken house.

He was returned to the hospital by Policemen Nowland, Snellings, Bell, and Lawrence Padgett. At the hospital today it was stated that he was little the worse from his experience, although he left the hospital in his night clothes. Bradley was tracked through the snow by the police to his hiding place.

ROBBERY REPORTED

Burglar Enters Residence of Mrs. Charles Videll and Gets Money and Jewelry

Mrs. Charles Videll, living at 103 Duke street, reported to the police that a burglar entered her home last night between 7 and 9 o'clock, during the absence of the occupants, and stole about $125, together with some jewelry and also broke the gas meter and stole about $27. The police are investigating the robbery.

Entrance, Mrs. Videll told the police, was effected through a rear door, the burglar using a duplicate key. At the time Mrs. Videll had gone to Washington to meet her husband.

Rev. Dr. Jno. Lee Allison, pastor, will have as his theme, the "World's Hope" for the morning, and his evening subject will be evangelistic.

H. G. Tirbby, contracting builder, has recently moved into his new office at 102 South St. Asaph street, where he is now located with J. G. Landers.

FORD'S OFFER FOR SHOALS IS INDORSED

Attitude of Gompers on Rail Wage Question Is Criticized

URGE FINANCE MEET

St. Lawrence-to-the-Lakes Project is Urged by the Farmers—May be Adopted

Washington, Jan. 28.—After a stormy session throughout the day the National Agricultural Conference came to a close last night with opinion divided as to whether or not an effective means had been decided upon for relieving depression on the farm.

Events moved rapidly in the closing session. The delegates played verbal football with Samuel Gompers, veteran labor leader, and the cause for which he stands. He scored early victories only to be later severely rebuffed.

The conference endorsed Henry Ford's proposal for the acquisition of Muscle Shoals, recommended the adoption of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project, and adopted nuemorus committee reports, each one suggesting some means of bringing the farmer back from a state of financial despondency to antebellum normalcy.

In the final hour of its last session the delegates again went on record as being in favor of participation by the United States in "a conference for economic and financial reconstruction in Europe."

Other eleventh-hour matters disposed of were recommendations for the enactment of legislation to meet the need of short term credits; redoubled effort for the sale of farm loan bonds through a legally created bond market; reenactment of excess profit tax on corporatons if additional revenue be needed, and a Federal investigation with a view of establishing crop insurance.

The day was decidedly the most eventful of the conference and in the opinion of many observers marked the begninng of divorce between the workman on the farm and his brother in industry who carries a union card. Still others insisted that it means that the farmer would take no side in disputes between capital and labor, but would insist that each do something to assist the planter and rural laborer in getting a greater return for their effort and more purchasing power for the dollar.

Samuel Gompers started the verbal fireworks, and was responsible for bringng about a temporary cleavage, at least, in the aims of organized labor and the farmer. He was successful in having eliminated from a committee report a recommendation for the reduction of industrial wages.

At the afternoon session he attempted to press his advantage in the discussion of a recommendation of the committee on transportation that both the railroads and railroad labor share in the general deflation. Mr. Gompers moved that the recommendation be stricken from the report, but the agricultural delegates turned against him, and overwhelmingly voted that the recommendation remain as reported.

The injection of the cause of union labor into the conference, and the insistence of the veteran leader that farm workers should stand by the laborers in industrial plants, overshadowed other developments of the day, with the possible exception of the action on the Muscle Shoals project for furnishing fertilizer and power, and the St. Lawrence River project for bringing ocean freight to the Great Lakes and Middle West.

From the report of the subcommittee on railway transportation. Mr. Gompers moved to strike out the following:

"In conclusion, we insist that the railroad corporations and railroad labor share in the deflation of charges now affecting all industries. This is essential to the restoration of normal conditions in agriculture and essential to the welfare of the entire community. We earnestly appeal to those in authority to take such action as may be necessary to accomplish that result."

After a speech in which he appealed to all laborers to stand together, the motion of Mr. Gompers to have the objectionable clause eliminated was put to a vote. There was a very weak response of "ayes." The "noes" were tumultous and there was a demonstration of boisterous shouting.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Bristol—Governor-Elect E. Lee Trinkle has announced from his office in Wytheville that no invitations would be issued for the inaugural ball to be held on the night of February 1, at the executive mansion in Richmond. "The ball will be a state affair and all who care to come will be welcome," Governor-Elect Trinkle's statement said, Governor-Elect Trinkle said that he had received numerous inquiries concerning the ball and that his statement was meant as an explanation in response to the information sought of him.

Staunton—Local pastors scored the lack of "dry" enforcement in city and county courts and on the part of the city police officers at a meeting of the Staunton and Augusta County Ministerial Association, held Tuesday The ministers took no formal action and drafted no resolutions, but contented themselves for the time being with verbal condemnation of the lack of teeth in the prohibition laws. A plan of campaign designed to mold public opinion against half-hearted enforcement was, however, laid out.

Danville—The police enquiry here so absorbed the attention of the police force yesterday that not a single arrest was made during the day. The police docket was blank today and no session of court was held. Virtually the entire force of policemen are witnesses either for or against the accused policeman.

Roanoke—The board of trustees of Elizabeth College at a meeting yesterday that lasted until late last night decided to recommend to the state synods of the Lutheran Church, under whose auspices the college is conducted, not to continue it after the term that will end this spring, It was decided to recommend that the indebtedness of the college be turned over to Roanoke College.

Talks on Buenos Aires

Robert S. Barrett Monday to Address Virginia Press Association in Richmond

Robert S. Barrett, formerly of this city, Thursday night delivered the first of a series of lectures before the Pan American Society of the United States, in New York, at the auditorium of the United Engineering Society, 29 West 39th street. His lecture was on "Buenos Aires." The lecture was beautifully illustrated by lantern slides.

Mr. Barrett was a member of the American Embassy staff at Buenos Aires during the war, in the capacity of commercial attache, and for years was connected with Latin-American affairs in an official capacity and as private secretary and subsequently he resigned and became vice-president of Portalis and Company, one of the largest merchandising houses in the Argentine.

Mr. Barrett arrived in Alexandria today and will leave tomorrow for Richmond and on Monday he will address the mid-winter meeting of the Virginia Press Association and will talk on "Journalism in Argentine." His address will be illustrated.

For a number of years Mr. Barrett was editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

DANGER LURKS IN NEGLECTED COLDS IS TOLD

Health Officer Tells of Serious Consequences That Follow

PNEUMONIA RIFE

January and February Regarded as Worst Months of Year For Acute Infections of Nose, Throat Lungs

Don't neglect a cold! This admonition has been interated and reiterated so often, that it seems almost to have lost its power to attract attention. However, I again issue this warning with the hope that some will give heed. Colds may seem trifles, but their results are far from it. Thousands die every year from the results of neglected colds. How many people do you think die from pneumonia, whose first symptoms were those of a so-called common cold? You have often heard of throwng a monkey-wrench into the cogwheels of a machine, and the results that follow? Well, a cold is a monkey-wrench thrown into the human machine, and the resulting damage is great or small, according to the vitality of the individual and that treatment and care he or she receives. The statement, "He has a cold," really don't mean anything specific. It is simply a popular form used to describe the many and various symptoms of an acute infection of the nose, throat, bronci or lungs. A child with the first symptoms of diphtheria or scarlet fever, is very often thought to be auffering with a sore throat or "heavy cold." It is the same way with pneumonia, the patient is often spoken of as having a "very heavy cold," and the various methods of home treatment are resorted to, and then; very often when it too late; a doctor may be called in.

January and February are the worst months of the year for such acute infections of the nose, throat and lungs. There have been quite a few cases of pneumonia recently, with many cases of "heavy colds."

Remember that a "cold" is always dangerous—Don't depend upon home remedies or patent medicines.

Keep your feet warm and dry. Don't stay in over heated rooms.

Sleep with window open. Keep out in the open air as much as possible. Eat plain, simple food. Dress in warm clothing. Don't fool yourself by trying to use summer clothes. Trying to keep in style has killed many a victim. You may fool others, but you can't fool yourself! If something got the matter with your watch, you would not take it to a blacksmith, neither would you try to tinker it yourself. Your living body is a thousand times more delicate than the finest watch. So don't fool with it but call a doctor. You will find it is the cheapest in the end!

And above all, Keep my advice well in mind, and that is, don't neglect a cold!

This advice is given by Dr. L. E. Foulks, city health officer.

JEWISH RELIEF

All Who Have Not Yet Sent In Contributions Urged to do so at Once

Already many contrbutions have been received for the Jewish Relief fund as a result of the appeal sent out by L. Ruben, local chairman of the committee. Persons who have not yet sent in their contributions are urged to do so at once.

Contributions should be sent at once to J. T. Preston, treasurer, care of the chamber of commerce. Mr. Ruben stated today that he is anxious to get all contriblutions in just as soon as possible and hopes that the quota assigned by the state committee for Alexandria will be reached The national committee hopes to raise $14,000,000 to help heal the sick, feed the famine stricken.

Held For Grand Jury

In the police court today following an investigation of copper gasoline tanks on sale at the store of Samuel Mendelson, 1100 King street, and not 1110 King street, was erroneously stated in the Gazette last night, the storekeeper was held for the action of the grand jury. Mendelson gave bond in the sum of $500.

He was represented by Attorney Carl Budwesky.

The police took charge of nineteen tanks made of copper found at his store.

There will be a music and dramatic entertainment and social for the benefit of Grace Church in the Young People's Buliding next Friday night. Those in charge report that there will be an array of unusually good talent provided.

Joseph Manly Cobb, of the Virginia Theological Seminary, will address the Baraca Bible Class of the First Baptist Church at 9:30 Sunday morning at the church. Everybody invited.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 28.—The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today that an examination will be held in Alexandria on February 11 for the position of printer's assistant in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. This examination will be open to women only. The entrance salary in the Bureau for this class of worker is $2.80 a day.

The Commission points out that appointees are first taught the duties of counting paper, laying the sheets of paper on the engraved plate preparatory to printing, taking them off, examining them and delivering them to messengers. In the Bureau a day's work is eight hours, including half an hour for luncheon. The women employees do not work on Sundays. If it is necessary for them to work extra hours they are paid for time and a half for the overtime work. For the first month, the period of instruction, they are assigned to the day force. After that period they must work on the night force until they can be assigned regularly to daywork in the order of seniority.

The State Department is keeping its eye on a situation that has developed on the border between Guatemala and Mexico, where troops of both countries are reportd to be massed in readiness for armed conflict. This government is most anxious that actual battle between the two nations be avoided and is watching the situation carefully to prevent hostilities if possible. The trouble between the two governments arise out of the deposing of former President Herrera, of Guatemala, who was friendly to Mexico, on December 6, 1921. Herrera was said to have resigned, but it is well known that his resignation was at the point of a pistol in the hands of some of his cabinet members who sought to force him out. On top of this came an incident involving the Mexican Minister which caused the Mexican governent to order him home. It is explained by the Guatemalans that the act of the Mexicans was one of friendship and in no way involved the threat of hostilities.

Should a woman, though married, retain her maiden name? Members of the National Woman's Party believe so, and in conjunction with the Lucy Stone League of New York, they have started a campaign to popularize the custom of women retaining their maiden names, or noms de plume, or stage names, even after they have earned the right to be called "Mrs."

One of the first moves in the campaign is contained in the women's rights bill now being urged on the Virginia legislature. It gives the women the right to "choice of domicile, residence and name." The bill is being pushed by Miss Elsie Hill who recentlv married Professor Leavitt, of the University of North Dakota. A large number of women not encumbered with the names of their husbands are members of the Lucy Stone League.

Royal A. Haynes, U. S. Prohibition Commissioner, is somewhat exercised over the reports that the importations of liquors into the United States are on the increase. He gave out a statement today attempting to disprove the fact and to show that the United States is growing drier and drier day by day.,

"In anticipation of the passage of the Willis-Campbell bill, which cutoff liquor importations," said Haynes today, "there was naturally an increase in shipments from abroad However, importations of all liquors for medicinal and manufacturing purpose were less than one-half of one per cent of the total consumption of beverage liquors in the United States in pre-prohibition days. The Wilis-Campbell bill will reduce importations to almost a vanishing point hereafter."

Charles W. Morse, ship magnate who returned from Havre, France, after the United States government had requested that he not be permitted to stay in France, today demanded of the U. S. attorney here that something be done about this case. In a letter to the District Attorney Morse declared that eight weeks had elapsed since he and his son offered to appear before the grand jury waiving all privileges of immunity but that nothing has been done about the case. He declares that he is anxious to go to Rome to consult a physician on his physical condition and that if he is not needed in Washington he would like to know.

Policeman On Horse

Durrer Mounts Charger In Place Of Motorcycle

Unable to use the police motorcycle, Traffc Policeman Haywood Durrer today entered the city astride a big black charger instead of his trusty motorcycle which has spelt fear in the hearts of bootlegers for many months past. According to Durrer there were no persons whom he encuntered guilty of exceeding the speed limit.

Policeman Durrer said he was the first man over King street this morning and that all of the suburban ites seemed to be snowbound.

SENATE MAY APPROVE PACTS VERY SOON

President Harding Looks for No Long Delay in Ratification

AGREEMENT NEAR

Instructions to Chinese Delegation Expected to be Received Not Later Than Monday.

Washington, Jan. 28.—In the opinion of President Harding there will be no long delay in action by the Senate on the treaties that will grow out of the armament conference. He made this plain to visitors yesterday following the cabinet meeting at which Secretary Hughes made a lengthy explanation of the conference work.

The Secretary is understod to have told the President and his associates in the Cabinet, that the completion of the conference labors is in sight. Agreement on all of the knotty problems was said to be imminent. The present delay was technical, due to the necessity of certain delegations receiving further instructions from their home governments.

In conference circles last night the opinion was expressed that a definite decision on the Shantung Railway will be arrived at when the Japanese and Chinese delegations resume their direct negotiations on Monday. At his conference Wednesday with Minister Sze the President had expresesd the hope that seemingly technical matters would not be permitted, to interfere with a decision that was so necessary to the peace of the world. That of course was as far as the President could go in a matter in which national sovereignty was involved and in which this country had no direct part. The Chinese delegation has asked Pekin for certain specific additional instructions and they should be available before Monday.

It is understood that China only awaits instructions from Pekin on two specific points. The general terms for the settlement of the railroad are understood to be complete. China gets the title to the railroad the settlement to the based upon a 15-year deferred payment plan with a 5-year option there-after.

The plan for control which practically has been agreed on is that the Chinese shall have a managing director under whom there shall be a Chinese traffic manager. The Japanese, however, are to be allowed to name an associate traffic manager in order that their rights also may be safeguarded.

It is understood that the various Chinese student bodies in the United States have been asked to agree to the plan and that they will endorse it and so report to their representatives in China before any official announcement is made here. This would have the effect of preventing any serious criticism of the Chinese delegation here because it accepted the compromise plan of fifteen years with a five-year option instead of the original proposal for full payment to be made in from nine months to three years. Japan will have management and, of course, will retain a mortgage on the road until the final payment is made.

There has been no change in the plans of the President to send the completed work of the conference to the Senate as soon as all of the treaties have been signed. The President, administration circles said last night, does not believe that the program when completed will inspire any long-drawn-out debate either in the Foreign Relations Committee or on the floor of the Senate.

Meanwhile the delegates to the present conference have been anxious to learn whether the United States will officially participate in the proposed Genoa economic gathering. The matter still continues unsettled. It has been the subject of discussion between the President, and his advisers, but no definite decision has been reached.

PROBE COMMITTEE

First Meeting at 4 O'clock This Afternoon to Investigate Alleged Divorce Evil

The committee of seven named by the Alexandria Bar Association to probe the alleged divorce evil in this city is scheduled to hold its first meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the corporation court room.

This meeting will be for the purpose of organizing and mapping out a plan of work. It is expected that to each member will be assigned certain work and a date for another meeting will be fixed upon. It is regarded as highly probable that the investigation will last two or three weeks before the investigation is completed.

Findings of the special committee, of which Howard W. Smith is chairman, will be reported to the Alexandria Bar Association.

NEW WASHINGTON FAD

It were discourteous, perhaps, to call our largest suburb, the nearby city of Washington, hobby-ridden. But we may certainly say in truth and candor, that it is probably the home of more fads, cults and isms than any other city in the world. There is a reason for this, of course, but it is not necessarily pertinent here.

The latest fad to be taken up in the national capital is that of a little band of scholars who are associated for the purpose of studying in collaboration those plays which, they claim, go under Shakespeare's name, but which modern research tends to show were really the production of other authors and were merely touched up—some of them more, some of them less—by the master's hand. They propose to try to decide not only which plays may thus be classed as partly Shakespearian, but also those that are absolutely non-Shakespearian.

To what end? For what purpose? The plays themselves still remain the most marvelous productions of the human mind thus far known to the world, and are so insuperably greater than the literature that has come to us from antiquity, or than anything since produced—that all standards of comparison utterly fail. This is the important thing to us. What matters it who wrote them—one or many!

However, there are certain indisputable evidences, to us at least, that interpose themselves at the outset. The best evidence, we believe, would be the testimony of Shakespeare's own friends, who knew the man intimately, who hobnobbed with him at the Mermaid, and who were familiar with his literary work as it came out from time to time. For instance, rare Ben Jonson, his boon companion and daily associate, thus apostrophizes his life-long friend: "Soul of the age, the applause, delight, the wonder of our stage, my Shakespeare, rise! I will not lodge thee by Chaucer or Spenser, or bid Beaumont lie a little further, to make thee room." This, from a man who was, himself, one of the intellectual giants of the Elizabethan period. If Shakespeare were the ignorant plagiarist that some of his critics make him out to be, could he have deceived and hoodwinked a man like Jonson? This one fact alone should settle forever, the doubts that arise as to his authorship. At the Mermaid Tavern were gathered nightly the flower of English literary genius, Shakespeare first and foremost among them. Another of these mighty shades: Francis Beaumont, thus speaks of his confreres at the Tavern: "What things have we seen done at the Mermaid! heard words that have been so full of subtile flame as if that every one from whence they came, had meant to put his whole wit in a jest, and resolved to live a fool the rest of his dull life."

As to plagiarism, Emerson says: "When Shakespeare is charged with debts to his authors, Landor replies that he was more original than his originals; that he breathed upon dead bodies and brought them into life." All of which is respectfully submitted to the learned scholars in Washington who aparently attack the shell but miss the kernel!

A RAY OF SUNSHINE

If Alexandria, Va., continues to get publicity as a divorce center they may move Hollywood over this way to make it easier for the movie colony to get service.—Washington Herald.

A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the wisest men. Thanks, esteemed contemporary, for this glimmer of sunshine beyond skies that are now somewhat overcast. But in the wisdom of an all-beneficent Providence it is in the nature of clouds to roll by! The Gazette makes it a practice as well as a duty to behold the sun at all times. It is eternal in the heavens, while the masses of pestilential vapor that obscure its brightness are ephemeral and transitory.

The sun will shine again in Alexandria, and when it does, the Gazette will bring out its sextant, take an observation, and apprise its readers of the correct latitude and longitude of this dear and historic old city!

ORIOLES TAKE SIXTEENTH

The uncanny accuracy of Nowland to cage baskets from difficult angles last night in the Armory enabled the Virginia Orioles to take their sixteenth game by defeating the High School reserves by the score of 18 to 8. The game was fast throughout each team playing clean basket ball.

The guarding of Duffey was also a feature for the winners, while Hayman undobutedly played the best game for the losers.

Tonight in the Armory at 7:15 the the Orioles will play Western Freshman from Washington.

From all indications the game should be a good one and the local boys hope to turn the champions of West Washington back with the short end of the score.

GUILD SERVICES

A novel service will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church Sunday night. All of the 25 Parish Societies will march in procession around the Church following the choir, and after a brief service, the annual reports of the societies will be read. Each organization will be preceded by a banner, which will be placed in the chancel.

Appropriate music will be rendered by the choir under the direction of Sherman B. Fowler, and the rector will give a brief address on "Organization Its Value, And Its Dangers."

Richmond—Owners of fox hounds will be allowed, on permit of the commissioner of game and inland fisheries, to release their hounds from their kennels at any time, according to a bill which was introduced at the request of the Virginia Fox Hunters' Association, and which has been reported out of the house committee on counties, cities and towns. The present law, which fixes a special tax on kennels, prohibits the dogs running at large. Hunters claim the usefulness of fox hounds is destroyed by their captivity within narrow bounds.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer In Alexandria.

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills revive sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Alexandria proof.

Mrs. M. E. Williams, 523 Gronoco St., says: "I was so bad off with pains in my back I was about all worn out. I put my hands on my back trying to relieve the pain through my kidneys. When I bent over I could hardly straighten again. This weakened me very much and made me so nervous I could hardly stand the least noise. Dizziness affected me when I bent and everything would turn black. My kidneys didn't act at all right. I tried different things but nothing did me any good until I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. I kept getting better right along and was soon cured."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

To Each of Our Subscribers
You Are One of Our Customers

WE would like you to be a partner in the telephone business.

If you become an owner of one or more shares of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company you become a partner in the Bell Telephone System.

An investment in the stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company does not depend solely upon the earnings of any one Company in any one State. A stockholder in that Company becomes a part owner in the Nation's telephone service.

The number of shareholders is now over 175,000; an increase of more than 35,000 since January 1, 1921. More than 75,000 of our employees are now making payments for stock purchased by them on an easy payment plan and over 23,000 of these hold shares already paid for.

It would be to the interest of all concerned if every telephone user and every employee also were a shareholder in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

We believe that there is no stock issued by any corporation which, considering safety and the return on the money, is a more attractive investment than American Telephone and Telegraph Company shares.

The stock can be bought, at the prevailing market price, through any bank or banker in the country. Each share has a par value of $100, a property value of more than $185, can be purchased for about $115 and pays a dividend of $9.00 each year, payable quarterly.

If you can pay for the stock only gradually we are prepared to make arrangements by which you can, through a reliable bank or banker, pay in installments.

We shall be glad to send you, upon application, the full details as to the management, financial position, earnings, and history of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and the details of the means to be taken by you to purchase the stock, either outright or in instalments.

IN MEMORIAM

WINKFIELD—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother and wife, LOUISA E. WINKFIELD, who departed this life 11 years ago today, January 28, 1911.

You don't know the sorrow it is to be left alone,
Until God sends a message to your home,
And it is sad when he calls for one or the other,
But the saddest of all when God calls for your Mother.
I think of your silence dear Mother,
few eyes see me weep,
But many silent tears I shed for you dear Mother,
When others are fast asleep.
But in Heaven we hope to meet you dear Mother,
Where no farewell words are said.

By her beloved daughter,
Rosie A. Binton.

Suffolk—The council of the city of Suffolk is now considering the issuing of bonds for a new school which will cost around $175,000. The need of a new school building in Suffolk has been felt for some time, and now pupils are having classes in the basement of the Jefferson, in a room in the Masonic Temple, and some classes are holding but half a day, with two teachers and two sets of children occupying one room. Also in the entire system of school buildings there is no auditorium—a need that is felt every day.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Robert F. Downham Gives His Views as to Accomplishment

Claims That the Most Important Thing at Present is Selection of "Real Men" for Council

Robert F. Downham, of the firm of Downham and Ridgely, in a conversation with one of the representatives of the Gazette, said that all he could say in regard to a Bigger, Brighter and Greater Alexandria had already been said by other men.

In the course of his talk it was gathered that he was greatly in favor of the new form of government which will, come into use in the city September 1, this year and that he deemed it an all-important matter—the selection of the right men for the positions of councilmen.

All the things advocated for the building of a better city, he says, are extremely important, but these will necessarily follow if the right men be elected to the council positions.

"To have a better city," he says, "too much care can not be exercised in the selection of the right men—fearless men to do the rght. This accomplished, all will be clear for a great future of our city.'

Roanoke—One car in passenger train No. 41 was derailed and another one partially derailed, on the Norfolk and Western Railway Wednesday morning near Shawsvills. A broken rail caused the derailment. The car thrown off the track was a sleeper, Traffic was blocked about three hours on this division. No one was injured, according to the report received at the general offices here.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help other women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past."—Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.

BABY CONTEST BAZAAR FEATURE

BABY ENTRY
Put and Take Bazaar Committee, Chamber of Commerce, City

Gentlemen:—

Enter my baby in the Baby Show and Contest, at once.

Baby's name .....
Age .....
Address .....
Sex .....

Clip this entry coupon and bring to Headquarters and receive 100 points FREE as a starter.

What is home without a baby? Not very much if you should happen to ask the "Benztown Bard," but that makes no "never mind." Right here in Alexandria, at the big indoor classic, there will be staged as one of the feature events, a real Baby Show and Contest, and every mother's darling in the city and county is eligible, provided said darling has not been in the world more than five years.

The babies will be awarded points for health, beauty and physique on the opening night, Monday, February 6th., at the Baby Booth. An additional award of points will be awarded for popularity, and mothers are requested to report at once to Headquarters, Chamber of Commerce, and enter their precious ones.

Yea bo! There will be baby boys and girls galore—fat ones and lean ones, short ones and tall ones, yelpingones and sleeping ones. Don't miss it. The rules are very simple, and it is not necessary to have a friend or relative in the Veterans of Foreign Wars or the American Legion. All babies are welcome to compete for the handsome prizes which will be on display in Castleberg's windows on King street. These prizes will not be awarded until Saturday night, the last of the affair.

The mammoth put and take novelty bazaar is scheduled to be held at the Armory on Royal street, for one solid week, commencing Monday, February 6th.

A. H. S. Defeats Bliss

The basket ball team from Alexandria High School last night defeated the strong team from Bliss Electrical School by the score of 40 to 38.

This game gives the local team quite a good standing, as Bliss is one of the best quints in the city of Washington. The game was about the most exciting seen this year in the Armory and was closely contested all the way, neither team having more than two or three points advantages. The passing was exceptionally good and only the close guarding of the A. H. S. guards kept the score. Pettit shot very well from the foul line, making 8 out of 11 tries. Dreifus for the High School and Buzby of the visitors were the features making 7 and 8 respectively. The game was decided in the last 5 seconds of play, Dreifus making a hair raising shot from the middle of the floor.

Washington Soprano

Concert By Mrs. Lawson at Westminster Building Last Night

Mrs. Franceska Kaspar Lawson, of Washington, D. C., delighted Alexandrians by her selections last evening. Despite the inclement weather, a good audience enjoyed the musical treat as, she gave a varied program consisting of classical airs, Russian and French songs, American songs, and Aria "the Carnival of Venice." She sang with much ease and the power and tone of her voice gave much pleasure. A marked feature of her singing is her power of shading proving the true artist. Mrs. Lawson will always receive a cordial welcome in our city.

—Have you really imagined you would be able to purchase such smart styles, in popular styles of the hour, at so little a price?

Come and see, and be convinced.

Frocks of soft taffeta, of Canton crepe, of Poiret twill and crepe de chine.

These dresses are made with puff skirts, close-fitting basque, and most of the dark colored models have touches of bright-colored silk and are finished at the waist with clusters of flowers. The wool dresses are the popular straight-line styles, some with tailored tabs at the sides. The crepe dresses have colored embroidery, and many have the new flowing sleeves. The shades are henna, gray, navy, brown and black.
